- Commitment to quality is a deliberate attitude of management and all employees of Bebusch Hungária Kft.
- As a mission, let's say that our company is a company in the field of technical plastic parts manufacturing.
- We are continuously developing our activities, providing our staff with up-to-date knowledge to enhance their security and expand their knowledge.
- We want to win our customers' confidence with our performance and with our deliveries, we strive to achieve a "0" error by constantly improving the quality of our products.
- In line with the principles of quality policy, we have set ourselves goals of quality, and for the sake of objectivity we have established a system of measurable results. The fulfillment of the objectives is kept under continuous control.
- We have determined our stakeholders that are relevant to quality management, and we monitor their specific and latent expectations.
- We counted our values, opportunities and weaknesses together with the risks posed to our company.
- We have taken steps to meet the expectations of our major stakeholders to the fullest extent possible.
- We strive to detect, reduce, and eliminate risks from technology. When designing a working environment, we take into consideration the protection of health and create the conditions for safe working, keeping product safety at the same time.
- We expect our subcontractors and suppliers to adopt our quality policy and to carry out their activities with this in mind.
- Our goal is continuous improvement of our management system based on real data and active participation of our employees, taking into account the requirements of all relevant stakeholders.
- The efficient market penetration of our partners is facilitated by our flexibility, speed, and cost-effective application of the right technology.
- Our company intends to fulfill and develop the required goals towards ourselves, which contribute to customer satisfaction and the higher product quality level.
